

Assessment of Internal Controls for 2022

Cortland County Development Corporation

CCDC CEO Garry VanGorder met with CFO Karen Niday on January 9, 2023 to assess the adequacy and efficiency of the agencies' internal control structure. A review determined that the agency's systems are adequate and satisfactory in pursuit of the mission. The assessment focused on internal controls as they impact:

- Finances
Significant redundancy in processing all aspects of agency finances
- Policies and Procedures
All requisite policies and procedures are in place, are familiar to the staff, and are followed
- Board governance and agency adherence to public authority statute
The agencies are careful to adhere to all requirements of them under Public Authority Law and are in full compliance with same
